Incodel To Drop Plan For Wallpack Bend Reservoir

Wallpack Bend Reservoir near Bushkill will be eliminated from Incodel's program, Rep. August Metz said last night.

The Pike County assemblyman told The Daily Record the agreement followed a conference between him and James H. Alden, executive secretary of the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin (Incodel).

He said much of the credit for the agreement should go to Franklin Lichtenwalter of Lehigh County, a member of Incodel and former U. S. congressman.

The Wallpack Bend Reservoir has been the chief objection to Incodel's proposal by residents in the Pike County area.

House Group To Consider Sales Levy

Harrisburg, Pa.—The House Republican leadership laid the groundwork yesterday for an attempt to push a two per cent sales tax through the 1953 Legislature.

Chairman Wrayburn B. Hall (R-Potter) called a meeting of his House Ways and Means Committee for Monday to consider a sales tax.

The break in the commonwealth's muddled tax picture came as the Senate put the axe to a package of Chesterman economy proposals. These included abolition of the Internal Affairs Department and the proposed scuttling half of the 14 state teachers colleges.

The Senate also refused to pass a proposal to require graduates of state teachers colleges to teach in Pennsylvania for at least two years upon graduation or reimburse the state for tuition, and refused to eliminate the boards of trustees at state teachers colleges and replace them with boards having advisory powers only.

Hall, long an advocate of a broad-based tax as a solution to the commonwealth's fiscal dilemma, said a flat income tax will not be considered by his committee.

Gov. John S. Fine's tax study committee estimated a two per cent sales tax, exempting food, would bring in 140 million dollars. Fine has called for 157 million in new taxes to balance the commonwealth's $1,400,000,000 budget for the next biennium.

The Governor has said he believes neither a sales nor an income tax can pass the 1953 Legislature. Seven GOP defections in the House, plus the 58-member Democratic bloc, could kill either type of impost.

Talk of a sales tax shoved into the background a proposal to make $137,700,000 in budget cuts by shifting more than 100 million dollars in education costs to the local level.

Christie Held For Murdering Six Women

London, Eng.—Scotland Yard's big manhunt got results yesterday and James R. Christie, 55, was formally charged with murder in the investigation of the strangling of six women at his old flat on grubbin' by Notting Hill.

Arrested by a lone constable beside the Thames only five miles from the grim "house of murder," the mild-looking clerk was booked on a charge of murdering his wife, Ethel, 54, one of the victims.

Her body was found last week under the floorboards of their kitchen at 10 Rillington Place. The bodies of three younger women were found walled up in the flat and the bones of at least two other victims were recovered from ash cans buried in the garden.

Christie is accused of killing his wife "on or about Dec. 14." He will be arraigned in Magistrate's Court today.

Unshaven, shabbily dressed and hungry, the man whom Notting Hill dwellers called a perfect gentleman because he always tipped his hat to ladies, surrendered meekly to Constable Thomas Ledger, who recognized him from news paper pictures and asked him to come along to a police station for questioning.

Scotland Yard, in sending out a nation-wide alarm, had said only that it wanted Christie to help in the probe. But the formal charge was filed after he had been questioned only a few hours.

Deadline Set For News Copy

Programs of special Easter services and music to be presented in regional churches on Easter Sunday will be published in The Daily Record on Saturday, April 4.

Pastors and music directors are asked to prepare their copy and send it to The Daily Record no later than noon Thursday, April 2. Copy, if possible, should be typewritten.

Ninth Street Man Slugged With Car Jack

Slugged behind the ear with an automobile jack, a Stroudsburg man was in "poor condition" at General Hospital last night.

It was not until late yesterday that Stroudsburg police revealed the attack, which took place about 6:30 p. m. Sunday.

The victim is William VanWhy, 25, of 9 S. Ninth St.

In the county jail on a charge of aggravated assault and battery is William McWilliams, 23, who gave his address as 40 N. Third St., Stroudsburg.

McWilliams was sought by Stroudsburg officers Sunday night and Monday. On Monday he approached Officers John Baujan and William Coolbaugh; Baujan committed him to the county jail after questioning.

The alleged assailant was received at the county jail about 9:45 p. m. Monday. He has remained there since.

Police said they are watching the condition of VanWhy closely. So far police have been unable to obtain a statement from him.

Officer Baujan said McWilliams admitted hitting VanWhy with the jack.

McWilliams' story to police about details of the incident were repeated by Officer Baujan and Chief James F. McConnell as follows:

The two men went to New Jersey in VanWhy's car Sunday. They visited several taverns.

On the return trip, VanWhy pulled up and parked his car at the foot of Foxtown Hill shortly before 6:30 p. m.

An argument followed, police quoted McWilliams.

McWilliams wanted VanWhy to drive him on home. VanWhy refused.

Then VanWhy started "to doze," McWilliams told police. That made McWilliams angry, police said; he picked up the automobile jack and hit VanWhy with it.

The ruckus occurred while both men were inside the car, Baujan learned from McWilliams.

After hitting VanWhy, McWilliams got out of the car and started to walk home, police said.

At Storm St. he saw Frank and Clarence LeBar of Stroudsburg, police said. He told them he had been in an accident."

The LaBars took McWilliams back to the spot in their car, police quoted McWilliams. When they saw VanWhy's condition, they drove him immediately to the hospital in his own car.

VanWhy was admitted for treatment. Police were also called and began investigating about 6:40 p. m., Baujan reported.

By then McWilliams had disappeared. He reported to police the next day.

Youth Admits Five Murders

Dubuque, Ia., Apr.—Dubuque County Sheriff Leo J. Martin said last night an 18-year-old New York youth picked up near Dubuque a few hours earlier had confessed to five murders in four days—double slayings in Minnesota and Illinois and a single shooting in New York state.

Fred E. McManus of Valley Stream, N.Y., was picked up with a 16-year-old girl he claimed was his wife and another man in a stolen red convertible by Highway Patrolman Jack Moore.

Sheriff Martin said McManus confessed killing two women at Spring Valley, Minn., early Monday and an elderly Kenneyville, Ill., couple last Saturday.

The youth also confessed that he had killed a Hobart, N.Y. College student from whom he stole his car, the 1953 model convertible, Martin said. The student, Allen Braverman, 19, had been missing since last Friday.

Martin said McManus said he killed Braverman in Rochester Friday and dumped his body about 20 miles outside the city.

The sheriff said McManus also confessed that he robbed a couple of $10 near Dubuque Sunday night and stole their auto.

Patrolman Moore said he arrested McManus on Highway 52 four miles north of here without a struggle although loaded .45-caliber automatic pistol was found under the car's dashboard.

The four Minnesota and Illinois slaying victims had been shot with a .45-calibre weapon.

The girl McManus said was his wife was identified by authorities as Diana Marie Wegeland of Summerville, N.Y. No proof of the couple's marriage was found.

McManus told the sheriff the other man in the car was a hitchhiker he had picked up near Postville, Ia.

Rail Strike Idles 30,000 Steelworkers

Pittsburgh, Apr.—Four big plants of the United States Steel Corp., crippled by a strike of railroadmen, closed yesterday and plunged 36,000 production workers into idleness.

Approximately 4,500 employees of the subsidiary Union Railroad Company struck Monday midnight to protest 10-day suspensions handed two conductors accused of leading a slowdown.

The sheriff said McManus also confessed that he robbed a couple of $10 near Dubuque Sunday night and stole their auto.

Army Retires Gen. Van Fleet

Washington, Apr.—The Army said farewell yesterday to Gen. James A. Van Fleet with a formal parade and the full military honors reserved for career's end of a four-star old soldier.

As the 17-gun salute signaled the end of Van Fleet's 38 years in uniform, a Senate committee prepared to start a full-scale investigation today into his charges that critical ammunition shortages prevented him from carrying out his mission as Eighth Army commander in Korea for 22 months. This decline had spurred sharp criticism of Secretary of Agriculture Benson by some members of Congress.

Great Britain Pays Final Tribute To Queen Mary At St. George's Chapel Rites

Windsor, England, Apr.—They buried Queen Mary and gave her their final bows and curtsies in St. George's Chapel of Windsor Castle yesterday.

Queen Elizabeth II cast symbolic earth on the coffin of her beloved grandmother in the final ritual of "earth to earth, ashes to ashes, dust to dust."

It was a simple, stately Church of England service, in keeping with the old Queen's character.

There was no sermon or personal eulogy for the 85-year-old matriarch who was Queen Victoria's godchild. While sunshine and clouds flicked in succession across the stained glass windows, she was laid to rest in this ancient tomb of British royalty beside her husband, King George V, whom she had outlived by 17 years.

Kings and queens, crown princes and royal dukes, were among a thousand persons there to mourn.

And elsewhere in Britain and in her lands beyond the seas, funeral services were held in memory of the majestic lady who died peacefully a week ago. Five thousand persons crowded St. Paul's Cathedral in London.

In medieval St. George's Chapel, the service was conducted by the archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher.

In the role of an inconspicuous duke who nevertheless seemed to be the chief mourner was Mary's favorite son, David, the duke of Windsor, one-time King Edward VIII.

The atomic sub is expected to revolutionize undersea warfare, and a congressman predicted in time of war it may run surface vessels completely off the seas.

The Atomic Energy Commission disclosed that it had successfully placed in operation—on dry land only—a test duplicate of an atomic device which will be placed in the world's first known A-powered submarine; the USS Nautilus, now under construction.

Navy men say the atomic sub will be able to cruise thousands of miles without refueling. They say it will move faster, dive deeper and be far more stealthy in military maneuvers than any conventional sub now afloat.

The big advantage of atomic submarines over conventional types is that uranium fuel does not require air for combustion.

An atomic sub won't require batteries for submerged operations, and therefore wouldn't have to surface to recharge those batteries like an ordinary sub does.

In theory, an atomic sub could stay submerged for days, weeks, perhaps even months, depending on the amount of atomic fuel it carries and upon limitations of the submarine's human crew.

The Agriculture Department reported yesterday that farm prices on a whole increased one-third of 1 per cent between mid-February and mid-March. They had dropped steadily for six consecutive months. This decline had spurred sharp criticism of Secretary of Agriculture Benson by some members of Congress.

But the average prices of beef cattle—which have been the most troublesome from the Benson standpoint—declined slightly more than 12 per cent and veal calves about 8 per cent during the month. This put beef cattle about 36 per cent below a year ago and veal calves down about 34 per cent.

Secretary Benson has said heavy marketing of beef cattle from a record national herd have contributed to the decline. He has predicted that cattle prices will strengthen soon.

Wash. — Their respective deputies, Dr. John Clarke and Rubin Cole, conducted the test, and expressed themselves as "highly pleased" with the results.

Allied Peace Hopes Rise In Korea

Munsan, Korea (AP)—Guarded hopes for peace arose in this armistice base today from the Allied command's readiness to resume truce talks if new-Communist truce moves are sincere.

Gen. Mark Clark, Far East commander, made clear in a note to the Communist high command yesterday that both sides first should work out an exchange of sick and wounded prisoners before arranging "for a resumption of armistice negotiations."

Communist liaison officers received Clark's note at the armistice town of Panmunjom without comment. They said at a two-minute meeting they would deliver his message to higher authorities.

They gave no hint whether they would deliver officially the proposal of Premier Chou En-lai of Communist China for settlement of the overall problem of exchanging all prisoners, the lone issue blocking an armistice agreement.

Chou's statement was carried by the Peking radio and was not presented to Clark directly.

Chou's proposal was delivered to United Nations headquarters in New York yesterday, U. S. time, and touched off a flurry of action that indicated an effort might be made to move true question from Panmunjom to the U. N.

United Nations, N. Y., Apr.—Red China's offer to settle the Korean prisoner of war issue was received yesterday by U. N. Assembly President Lester B. Pearson. He told the assembly he hoped it would provide a basis for peace and that he had dispatched it to all U. N. members and to the United command.

Pearson informed applauding assembly delegates of this major development in the Korean deadlock as the Soviet Union and India moved to move up the Korean issue again in the U. N. here as soon as possible.

V. K. Krishna Menon, Indian delegate, told Pearson his government has instructed him to ask that the Korean situation be shovelled ahead of other questions on the assembly's agenda. Pearson rejected the new offer from R. A. China's Premier - Foreign Minister Chou En-lai certainly would be taken up at Panmunjom in new armistice talks, but Menon insisted on it being talked about here, too.

Mountainhome Methodists Announce Special Services

Mountainhome—Mountainhome Methodist Church will hold special services in connection with Holy Week. On Thursday at 8 p.m., a corporate communion service will be held, at which every member of the church should be present.

This marks the evening on which Christ held His Last Supper with His disciples, from which the institution of the Holy Communion followed in the Christian Church in apostolic times.

On Good Friday, the annual three-hour service will be held from noon to 3 p.m. The general theme of the service will be "The Seven Words of Jesus from the Cross."

There will be special music, including solos by Miss Betty Hoke, Miss Arlene Price, Miss Joan Austin and Mrs. John R. Nauman. There will also be a duet by Mrs. William A. Price and Mrs. John R. Nauman.

The meditations on the first, third, fifth and seventh words will be given by the pastor, Rev. Harold MacMurray, and those for the second, fourth and sixth by Rev. Claude L. Heilenman of the Canaan.

Easter services will be held in the Methodist Church on Sunday following the extensive renovation program which has been in progress the past several weeks.

Holy Week and Passover

For Christians and Jews this is a week of great importance.

For Christians it is Holy Week, for the Jews the season of Passover.

Passover or the Festival of Liberation began at sunset Monday.

The Passover was instituted to commemorate the escape of the Jews into Egypt. During the ancient days, for the Feast of the Passover, all Jews who possibly could went to Jerusalem.

Holy Week began with Palm Sunday, marking the entrance of Jesus Christ into Jerusalem, where He was received with great joy. Palms were spread in His path.

The culmination of His Passion came with His crucifixion on Good Friday and was followed by His resurrection on Easter morning. Christ died and rose again from the dead that man whom God created might be saved.

All over the world where there are Christians and Jews Passover and Holy Week are observed with ceremonies and services.

In Monroe County Protestants and Catholics conduct Holy Week services. Likewise Orthodox and Reformed Jews observe Passover. For all it is a period of high religious significance.

Precaution Instead of Caution

Pocono Mountains Automobile Club proposes that State Highway Department supplement the caution light on Park Ave, curve in Route 611 with caution lights on Foxtown Hill.

It's a good thought, but as long as humans are human, it's not the ultimate answer.

We'd like to suggest that a recommendation to the state be centered around building an adequate highway to carry existing traffic with particular emphasis on elimination of such radical curves.

We use "existing traffic" advisedly, because another terrific Summer travel season approaches—and so does a new four-lane freeway from Columbia to the new four-lane Delaware River bridge.

What is needed is not so much caution, but a little more PRECAUTION on the part of the highway department to meet such traffic emergencies.

A Precarious Position

Republican National Chairman Wesley Roberts has resigned under fire, blaming the attacks on him on bitter political dissension in his home state of Kansas.

In office only since his predecessor, Arthur Sommerfield, became postmaster general, Roberts is but the latest in a long succession of party chairmen who have been forced out by charges of undue influence.

The precariousness of the position of national chairman is a serious reflection on party politics and suggests the need for developing the career idea in professional politics.

If the two-party system is to live and remain healthy, there is need for men who understand the mechanics of politics and can employ them without corruption and suspicion.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

PLAIN IGNORANT

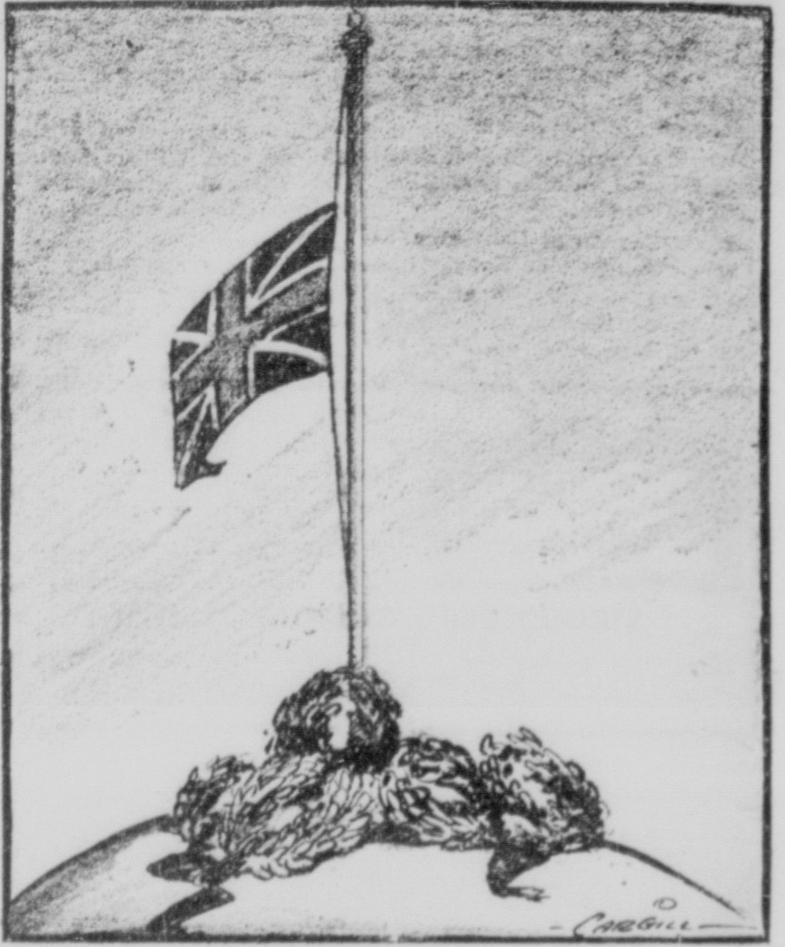

You'll have to excuse me, Teacher . . . I'm plain dumb! Went to school forty years too soon. Had teachers and professors who never clammed up in a United States Congressional hunt for disloyal Americans in an hour of national peril. Never heard of any schoolma-ams or schoolmasters who wouldn't gladly answer the question, "Are you for the glorious U.S.A. first, last and always, come hell, high water or Malenkov?" Yes teacher, school was the last place to look for a double-talker, an artful dodger, a quibbler or a fugitive from a fair question.

Queer school days in my time, I guess. The teachers, professors, superintendents, and deans had nothing to conceal. Jumped before no Fifth Amendment when asked, "Are you now or have you ever been a member of a party committed to the destruction of our government?" Were not at all "toughy" under a few questions about what they were teaching the kids. I must be extra thick, teacher, but I can't dig the type that chirps, "I claim my Constitutional privilege" to question after question from a duly constituted Senatorial body trying to shake rats out of the flag on a day when countless boys are dying on icy hills for the liberty that is gravely threatened . . . Teacher, am I a stupide? . . . Believe it or not, I'm so far down at the bottom of the class I can't go for any educator of kids who uses the Fifth Amendment arrogantly, defiantly and sneeringly when asked a question that any good American should be happy to answer in times like these.

Guess I'll never get a good mark, teacher . . . You see I'm one of the morons who can never learn just why a kid of nineteen can only say "Yes sir" to "Are you all set for the night raid on Heartbreak Ridge, Buddy?" when any man or woman in a soft educational job in school and college can pipe "I refuse to answer that question. Like it or lump it," in a situation which calls for no blood plasma.

No teacher before a Senate committee is taking an outside chance on being a basket case; no college professor is being exposed to inclusion among the litter cases. (You'll pardon my low mental qualities, teacher, but I'm so dumb I think the simple facts

A GRAND OLD NAME IS MARY

Robert S. Allen Reports

Upped Czech Demands Are Blocking Oatis' Freedom

Washington—The new Red masters of Czechoslovakia have upped the price for the release of American newsman William N. Oatis.

"They are making an extraordinary demand."

To obtain the liberation of Oatis from Communist prison, the satellites years are insisting the U. S. must do two things:

1. Admit that the Mutual Security Agency, which administers the great foreign military and economic aid program, is spying and inciting revolt in Czechoslovakia.

2. Publicly promise not to engage in "espionage, sabotage, subversion, etc. in the future."

This amazing demand was conveyed through British sources.

The latter were used by the U. S. in this latest effort to free Oatis. It was prompted by two Iron Curtain developments: Malenkov's protestations of a desire for peace and friendly relations, and the installation of a new regime in Prague following the death of President Gottwald.

It was believed these factors opened the way for the Reds to release Oatis as a tangible demonstration of the sincerity of their amity talk. The high-handed nature of Prague's response shatters that hope.

The Reds' demands are utterly unacceptable, and were made for that purpose. This indicates clearly that the new Communist rulers are still far from matching their public pronouncements with their secret deeds. Regardless of what they profess out in the open, they are as tough and aggressive as ever when their words are put to the test.

The outlook still appears bleak for Oatis' early release.

Foreign Flashes — Mrs. Bette Luce, new Ambassador to Italy, has informed authorities both in Washington and Rome that she does not want to be addressed as "Madame Ambassador". She has not yet indicated what title she prefers. Mrs. Luce is still on the Washington scene, as the Italian government doesn't want her to take office until after the national election, for which a date has not yet been set . . . Remarkable statement in BUSINESS WEEK, that is causing a lot of buzzing in Government quarters, "Actually, the U. S. begins to look with some sympathy on Britain's diplomatic ties with the Red Chinese. They might come in handy for us in an attempt to play Mao against Moscow." Several former top BUSINESS WEEK officials are members of President Eisenhower's White House staff. In the past, the U. S. has been highly critical of London's recognition of Red China . . . Norway's embassy has joined the British in the official 30-day mourning period for Dowager Queen Elizabeth.

"Hi-ya, fellows, hi-ya," he boomed, as he headed for the improvised bar that had been set up in Trice's inner office, where the luncheon took place. To the waiter who was mixing drinks, McCarthy said, "Never mind, I'll fix my own."

"Hi-ya, fellows, hi-ya," he boomed, as he headed for the improvised bar that had been set up in Trice's inner office, where the luncheon took place. To the waiter who was mixing drinks, McCarthy said, "Never mind, I'll fix my own."

"What's the matter, Joe?" asked one of the newsmen. "Are you afraid you might be poisoned? You aren't taking Lady Astor seriously, are you?"

"No," laughed McCarthy, "just not taking any chances."

In the genial atmosphere induced by Trice's hearty luncheon and plentiful liquor, the reporters tossed a number of frank questions at McCarthy about his relations with other senators and the White House, as a result of the angry battle over the confirmation of Ambassador Bohlen.

"You went over Knowland pretty hard," said one newsmen. "Are you still talking to one another?"

"Why, sure," declared McCarthy. "There is no real split between us. That sort of thing is all in a day's work. I met Mrs. Knowland at a party the other night, and she couldn't have been nicer to me. She did admit she could hardly believe her eyes when she saw me debating with her husband on the floor of the Senate."

Brooklyn College President Sought To Give Every Assistance To Jenner Group

A Friendly Witness

When Dr. Harry D. Gideonse presented on Brooklyn College, appeared before the Jenner Committee, he was what is called a friendly witness; that is, he sought to give the committee the benefit of 14 years of experience at this college.

Dr. Gideonse heads a large college, paid for by the taxpayers and governed by a Board of Higher Education of the City of New York. He also plays an important role in public affairs in this city on what is generally referred to as the liberal side. His testimony is among the most important that has yet been given before any of the Congressional committees presently investigating subversive activities in this country. It received inadequate notice.

Dr. Gideonse has fought the corruption of his students, since he took office, with rare courage and has won singular victories. But he has not had an easy time of it. There are always legal obstacles of which the subversives take every advantage.

For instance, Dr. Gideonse issued an interesting statement on the dismissal of teachers who refuse to testify before Congressional committees. In this statement, he said:

"These cases do not involve issues of academic freedom or freedom of thought. Twelve years ago two men swore in the Rapp-Coudert hearings that they were not members of the Communist Party. If they had now admitted that they were members of the Party, they would have raised a basic issue about their testimony before the Rapp-Coudert Committee. If they had repeated their previous testimony, they could foresee that testimony now available to the Senate subcommittee would make charges of perjury unavoidable. They therefore chose to appeal to the Fifth Amendment with a smoke-screen of language designed to make their action appear as a defense of freedom and democracy rather than a carefully planned avoidance of perjury charges.

"These are not issues of freedom or of legal technicalities. Wholly apart from the provisions of the City Charter and from the flagrant disregard of the Board's specific instructions to cooperate with the legislative committee, this is clearly a matter of unprofessional conduct or, in the language of the governing statute, 'conduct unbecoming a teacher' . . ."

This seems to me to be a fair statement of the case. Yet, Dr. Gideonse also had this to say after he was asked if he would read the whole of this statement, of which the above is an excerpt, into the record:

"I would love to do so, but I want to tell you before I read it that I had the typical New York State difficulties with this statement. I was even told by one of the press services, after they had read it to them, that in their judgment, under some legal decisions in New York, this was a statement that would expose the press service to financial damages.

Prize fights, with their enormous attendance both at the ring and by television, are clear evidence of the fact that human beings ARE members of the animal species.

Here is what I mean by the "educational value" of prize fights.

I was watching the Nino Valdes-Archie Moore fight in St. Louis.

Valdes, the Cuban heavyweight champion, fulfilled every expectation of the fans. A giant himself, he was having the stuffing knocked out of him by the world

CUTIES

—By E. Simms Campbell

"Boy! Those new neighbors sure can play poker!"

My New York

—By Mel Heimer

New York—Man next door to me tried to kill his wife today. Gave me food for thought.

Well, I may be elaborating there just a little; actually, there was an awful lot of female hollering and screaming going on either above, below or to one side of my apartment. If I were to be pinned down to one guess, I would suggest that some guy was chasing his bride around the living room with a carving knife in one hand, because she was unfaithful or burned the toast or something.

What made me pause and think, however, was not all the commotion. It was my own reaction. I put down the morning paper for a moment, listened attentively to see if I could catch any of the words they were yelling—and then picked up the paper again to resume reading the important item about Arcaro flicking his whip at Intertel at the three-sixteenths pole and drawing off to win by five lengths. It was at that precise point that I realized I had, after 13 years' apprenticeship that had followed my quitting Westchester county, become a New Yorker.

Nowhere in the world, I suppose, does a man have less interest in what his neighbor is doing. Until today I always had fancied myself just a little different than the regular New Yorker; try as I might, I never am able to pass a drunk sprawled unconscious on the sidewalk without pausing and wondering if I should call for help, nor am I capable of passing a hallway from which someone has just yelled "Help!" without stopping for just a moment and thinking, should I go in and see about helping (I always decide no).

These are things that come instinctively to the New Yorker. If you meet one in the elevator in the morning and say excitedly, "Hey—did you hear that the guy in apartment 3-H was murdered while playing cards last night?", the New Yorker will answer in one of two ways. He will look at you coldly, since it is morning, and say, "All right—what's the gag?" or he will say, with a little more animation, "What was he playing—bridge, poker, pinocchio?" *

I suppose I was on my way to becoming a real New Yorker about eight, nine years ago when the man in the apartment below me (different building than the present one; not the same man tried to kill his wife today) turned on the gas in the kitchen oven, stuck in his head and presentedly blew up the kitchen with a resounding roar.

I awoke, irritated, and stuck my head out the front window. About six feet below me, I could see smoke and fire pouring

Hansen To Direct 1953 Cancer Crusade In Monroe County

$4,000 Goal Announced For Crusade

County director of the 1953 "Cancer Crusade" will be Detleff A. Hansen, local attorney.

Mr. Hansen was also in charge of the 1952 drive locally.

Each "crusade" carried out by the American Cancer Society through its local units such as the one in Monroe County is a joint fund-raising and educational campaign.

Goal for this year's Monroe County drive has been set at $4,000. National goal is $18 million—an increase of $2 million over last year's goal.

"We hope to be able to contribute our full share toward this goal," Mr. Hansen said last night.

The task of directing the drive here, he continued, "carries a heavy responsibility."

"The size of our research program and the extent of service to patients and of our educational activity are governed by funds available. The more money raised—the more lives saved," he concluded.

April is set aside officially as "cancer control month" by act of Congress and Presidential proclamation.

It is one month during which every effort is made to acquaint the American public with the dangers of cancer.

But more than this, it is a month during which medical science attempts to remind every American that early cancer can be cured—if it is detected soon enough.

Therein lies one of "Cancer Crusade's" most important functions—it's attempt to tell the people what science has learned about the disease.

Thus far, science has succeeded in finding a series of danger signals which may lead to discovery of actual cancer. Although not all persons who have these "danger signals" will be cancer victims, it pays to check, and double-check when such symptoms appear.

With millions of dollars being used for research into the disease, its possible origins and effects, mankind's greatest "hope signal" today is contained in the one brief, simple statement:

"Most cancer is curable when it is recognized early and given proper treatment."

It's not a miracle. The "cure" takes time. But more than this, it needs faith and common sense. And the ability to face a fact which is not hopeless by any means.

Some Autoists Didn't Receive Plate Or Card

A substantial number of Monroe County residents were still without new license plates for their cars as the old plates expired at midnight last night.

Worse, a fair number had not even received the wallet-size substitute card to show police in case they were stopped for having illegal plates.

State police in the county will for the most part "use their discretion" in these cases, a telephone check indicated last night.

Stroudsburg substation was plagued throughout the day with queries from residents who had received either no plates, or no plates and no substitute card.

Mount Pocono troopers had "quite a few" calls last night. Police at Brodheadsville said they had had to answer only a few inquiries.

Use of police "discretion" is in line with a statement issued yesterday by Deputy Secretary of Revenue Arthur G. Gurgoyne in Harrisburg.

Gurgoyne said his department was not responsible for the foul-up. The Department of Revenue blamed the delay on the January riot at Western State Penitentiary, where the license plates are manufactured.

The net is this: 1952 plates still will be illegal today. There has been no extension of time for 1952 plates. If you don't have plates or the substitute card, try to have a cancelled check stub, money order stub or some other evidence that you mailed out the money and application on time. The rest will be up to police.

The boys are aged 12 and 13.

Four Youths Face Further Questioning

Four Stroudsburg High School youths were told yesterday to return with their parents for further questioning Monday in connection with vandalism at the school.

At that time the question of payment for repairs and replacements to damaged school property will be discussed. Damages are estimated in the neighborhood of $200, Police Chief James F. McConnell said last night.

The discussion Monday will be before Burgess Hal H. Harris at the municipal building.

Damage was to spotlights in the grandstands, wire mesh on a practice batting cage, broken windows, ticket booth door, and an interior water tank, police said.

The boys are aged 12 and 13.

Christmans Buy Tracts In Township

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Christman, Stroud Township, have purchased a property in that township, according to deeds recorded yesterday at the Court House.

Grantors were listed as Samuel and Grace Leona Pearce, of Monroe County, et al. The property consists of two tracts on the road from Stroudsburg to Bushkill.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Yetter, Smithfield Township, sold to Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Blomgren, Brooklyn, N. Y., some land in Middle Smithfield Township adjoining property of Charles C. Siemnick.

A Stroudsburg residence on the west side of North Ninth St. and adjoining the St. John's Lutheran Church, has been purchased by Mary F. Mikels, Stroudsburg, from Mr. and Mrs. Jacob K. Shafer, that borough.

Selling Waves Carry Stocks To New 1953 Lows

New York (AP)—Two selling waves yesterday forced the stock market down for the second straight day, and on average it reached a new low for the year.

Selling came from apprehension over possible economic effects of Communist peace feelers centered on an exchange of war prisoners, the same excuse used Monday for selling heavily.

Hardest hit were steels, motors, utilities, railroads, coppers, oils, rubbers, aircrafts, chemicals and defense industries.

After each of the selling waves in morning and afternoon, the market steadied itself. In the final half hour a recovery movement got under way and brought most prices up from their lows and sent others to the upside.

The date on which a voice was first broadcast by radio is in dispute, some believing it was 1892 and others 1906.

School will resume next Tuesday, at 8:30 a.m.

A special assembly program for tomorrow was also announced by Dunlap. The assembly will feature the Smith and Dane musical group, of the Antrim Bureau, Philadelphia.

Prominent YMCA Executive To Address Kickoff Dinner Of Building Fund Campaign

Inaugural dinner and coaching rally of the YMCA Building Fund Campaign will take place next Monday at 6:15 p.m. in the Penn Stroud Hotel. Co-chairmen C. R. Gillam and E. Holt Wyckoff pointed out last night.

All committee members and workers in the entire campaign organization are expected to attend.

Principal speaker will be Emery M. Nelson, associate executive secretary of the International Board of the YMCA.

Another highlight of the rally will be the appearance of the Community Chorus under the direction of Dr. Earl Willmuth.

Some time ago, Mr. Nelson made an extended tour of Europe, visiting England, Sweden, Denmark, Western Germany, Switzerland, Holland, Belgium, Italy, France and Greece.

During his travels, he met with many leaders in economic, welfare, business, church and government affairs. His major interest was in surveying post-war needs of youth and the ways in which the various National YMCA movements of Europe were helping to meet them.

As head of the North American YMCA's fund-raising activities for their World Service programs of aid to overseas Y movements, Mr. Nelson gave particular attention to those Y projects which depend on World Service help.

Before joining the staff of the International Board in 1948, Mr. Nelson had devoted more than 25 years to working directly with youth.

He is known among a number of Monroe Countians for having served from 1934 to 1939 as executive secretary of the United Churches of Scranton and Lackawanna County.

would taste better after a bonding period of 12 years.

Saylor replied he didn't use the stuff himself, so he was hardly an expert.

But he and Kean—who promptly made it clear he is no expert on consumption either—agreed they had heard a theory that liquor improves in quality for the first six to eight years of bonding but then remains the same.

It is estimated that the population of Great Britain and Ireland increased about five-fold from 1751 to 1851 when the British were peopling an empire and doubled again between 1851 and 1951 under conditions of continuing migration.

The present bonding limit, it seems, is eight years, after which the liquor must be removed and a tax of $10.50 per gallon paid.

As for the aging, Rep. Kean (R-NJ) wanted to know if it isn't a "lot of hokey" that the liquor

Memberships Total 108 In C. of C. Drive

A total of 108 and one-half memberships in Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce were reported yesterday.

At a meeting of the Chamber's membership campaign committee, Chairman H. G. Sanborn Jr. heard reports from 30 members on progress in the drive.

Several thousand colored eggs will be hidden in the park for the various age groups up to and including children 10 years old. A special hunt will be afforded for children above ten years at the conclusion of the big hunt.

Leaders in yesterday's report in terms of "contest points" were Elton Hall of Pocono Broadcasting-Pocono Record with 3030 points; Gerald P. O'Neill of Penn-Stroud with 2260 points; A. M. Price of Price's Garage with 2160 points and Jess Haynes of Haynes Motors with 1240 points.

The contest "points" are determined in relation to the number of new and old subscriptions each member secures for the Chamber.

All committee members are now competing for a "grand prize" of a two-week vacation in Florida.

Prior to yesterday's report session, a total of 27 and one-half old membership units and nine new ones had been brought in for a total of $1110 paid.

Combining these totals with those reported yesterday the Chamber now has 84 and one-half old membership units, 24 new units for a new total of $2,665 paid in.

Next report meeting will be held Monday noon, April 6 at a Penn-Stroud luncheon.

Scarantino Pays $55 Fine On Old Charge In Jersey

Driver of a tractor-trailer which killed a family of 10 near Washington, N. J., last week, had paid a $55 fine yesterday for a New Jersey traffic violation dating back more than a year.

He was John Scarantino, 21, Scranton, who faces 10 separate charges of causing death by motor vehicle, reckless driving and driving illegally in New Jersey. He is free on $5,400 appearance bond.

The charge for which he was fined $55 was for passing on a curve near Roxbury, N. J., Feb. 6, 1952.

Scarantino has been indicted by a grand jury as the driver in the crash which cost the life of dairy farmer Clarence Matlock and nine family members.

Truck Driver Pays $55 Fine

A $55 fine for driving an overweight truck was paid yesterday by Robert Smith, Johnson City, N. Y., arrested and taken before Justice of the Peace J. T. Hauser, Delaware Water Gap.

Team 39, Robert Hellman, captain, Mrs. Arnold Eschenbach, George Metropoulos, Homer Helmer, Charles J. Cincotta Jr., and Mrs. David Katz.

Team 25, T. Manning Curtis, captain; Joseph Kovarick, Mrs. Glen Rovert, Mahlon Serfass, Mrs. Anna Stein and Perry Bean.

Two Pastors List Series Of Services

Newfoundland—Announcement of the schedule of services in local churches for Holy Week and Easter Sunday has been made by Rev. Harry Root, pastor of the South Sterling Methodist Charge and Rev. Frederick Fulmer, of the Newfoundland Moravian Church.

The annual Holy Communion service of the South Sterling charge will be held in the South Sterling Church Thursday at 7:30 p.m., Rev. Root said. He extended an invitation to all local fraternal organizations to join with his congregations on this occasion.

The Methodist sunrise service will be conducted on the lawn of the South Sterling church at 5:30 Easter morning. Regular services will be held as usual in all three churches of the charge: South Sterling at 10 a.m., Greentown at 11:45 and LaAnna at 7:30 p.m. Sunday school times are: South Sterling 11:05 a.m.; Greentown and LaAnna at 10 a.m.

The Greentown church (Hemlock Grove) has scheduled an Easter party for the children at the church on Saturday at 2 p.m.

Good Friday services are scheduled for the Moravian Church at 2:30 p.m. This will culminate the readings from the Passion Week manual which have been made each night this week, tracing the events of the last few days of the life of Christ.

The Moravians will also conduct a sunrise service at 5:30 a.m. Sunday in the old Moravian Cemetery at the rear of the church. The regular service will be held at 10:45 a.m. with the Sunday School's annual Easter program to be presented at 9:30 a.m.

Absentee Vote Bill Advanced

Harrisburg, Pa.—A House committee yesterday approved for the first time a proposed constitutional amendment permitting absentee voting.

The Elections and Apportionment Committee sent to the floor a measure to permit persons unavoidably detained from their home county on business or confined to bed to cast absentee ballots.

Such an amendment would require approval of two separate legislatures in addition to passing a referendum of the voters. That means the absentee voting could not possibly become effective before 1956.

Meanwhile, Gene D. Smith, secretary of the commonwealth, said he had asked the Justice Department to give its opinion on whether absentee balloting could be accomplished by statute instead of an amendment.

The State Supreme Court ruled in 1923 that a similar law violated the spirit of the Constitution.

The amendment was sponsored by Reps. F. Garrett Richter (R-Allegheny), Daniel H. Erb (R-Wyoming) and Henry Ragot (R-Northampton).

Dawn Service Scheduled At Bartonsville

Easter dawn services will be held at 6 a.m. Sunday at St. John's Lutheran Church, Bartonsville, by the Crusaders Class.

There will be special music by the Reeder Methodist Church male quartet; the Mount East Lutheran Church quartet with a solo by Mrs. Robert Beehler of the local church and an anthem by the choir from the Hamilton Church. Speaker will be Rev. John Bergstresser.

Youth Rally To Witness Two Films

Two religious films have been scheduled by Youth for Christ rallies here April 11 and April 24.

First film is "Willing to Die," to be shown Saturday, April 11. Next film in the series, shown on April 24, will be "Mr. Texas," described as the "first religious Western movie."

"Mr. Texas" stars Red Harper, assisted by Billy Graham, George Beverly Shea, Cindy Walker and The Sons of the Pioneers.

Other Youth for Christ activities include a roller skating party at Strand Roller Rink on Tuesday, April 21, and participation in a Philadelphia boathouse sponsored by Percy Crawford on Saturday, May 23.

A large crowd attended last Saturday's rally at East Stroudsburg Baptist Church.

April May Be Cooler, Wetter Than Normal

Washington, D.C.—The Weather Bureau anticipates that April weather will be about as usual in much of the country but a little cooler and a little wetter than normal in some areas.

It issued this forecast yesterday:

"The Weather Bureau's 30-day outlook for April calls for temperatures to average below seasonal normals east of the Appalachians and in the Southwest.

Above normal temperatures are expected over the Northern Plains and in the West Gulf States. Elsewhere temperatures are expected to average near normal.

"Precipitation amounts exceeding normal are predicted over most of the Great Plains, Ohio Valley and North Atlantic States. Below normal amounts are expected in the Southwest, Southeast and the Northern Great Lakes region.

Elsewhere about normal rainfall is indicated."

Girl Steals So She'd Be Jailed

Akron, O., Pa.—Juvenile authorities yesterday detained an 8-year-old girl and quoted her as saying she stole a $90 adding machine because she wanted to go to jail.

"I don't have anybody to play with," she said, "and nobody loves me."

The girl was spotted dragging the machine out of a hole in an office supply store window Sunday, but was not caught until yesterday.

The juvenile authorities described her case as rising from a "disturbed family situation."

FCC Defends Standards For Color Video

Washington, D.C.—Chairman Paul A. Walker of the Federal Communications Commission stood his ground yesterday against quick acceptance, without full tests, of any new color television system.

As the last witness in Senate Commerce Committee hearings which Chairman Wolverton (R-N.J.) said were called to learn whether color TV had been deliberately delayed, Walker warmly defended the performance standards FCC has set up for the industry to shoot at. He told the committee it is yet to be proved that anybody has come up with a better system than the Columbia Broadcasting System process which FCC approved in 1950.

In effect he challenged the Radio Corp. of America, which has plugged a new development from its laboratories, to demonstrate the claims in testimony.

It takes extra equipment on present-day sets to receive the CBS signals. RCA says its new process is "compatible" without extras. The same argument was made for the older RCA development.

Royer said no date has been set for the joint committee hearing

Fire Company To Discuss New By-Laws

Pocono Pines—Regular meeting of Tobyhanna Township Volunteer Fire Co. will be held tonight at 8 in the fire hall.

One of this year's most important meetings, members are urged to attend tonight's discussion of by-law changes and a report from the committee in charge of revision.

Discussion of plans for annual fire company carnival will also be held.

Officers for this year are Elmer Shaffer, president; C. Willis Dunlap, vice president; Herbert Altemose, secretary and H. P. Henning, treasurer.

Highway Aid Bill Sent Back To Legislative Committee

Harrisburg, Pa.—A bill to continue the present 15 million dollars a biennium in highway aid to local communities was sent back to committee yesterday in the House to await a hearing.

Rep. Baker Royer (R-Lancaster), chairman of the House Highways Committee, said his group probably would meet with the Senate Highways Committee to hear all sides of the question.

"We want to explore the possibility of getting more money for the local governments," Royer said. Meanwhile, Thomas S. Stephenson, Altoona, president of the Pennsylvania Home Rule Association, said he considered the step "as a sign that the highway department has recognized the validity of the position of local government."

The Home Rule Association is supporting a separate bill which would return to the cities, boroughs and townships some 40 million dollars a biennium.

"We're asking for a return of about 25 per cent of the motor license fund, gasoline taxes and federal appropriations," Stephenson said. "We now get about 7 per cent while 59 per cent of the state's roads are under local maintenance."

Royer said no date has been set for the joint committee hearing

Columbia Drops Lecturer Named In Red Inquiry

New York, Pa.—Columbia University announced yesterday it is dropping from its staff Dr. Gene Weltfish, anthropology lecturer, who last September declined to tell Senate investigators whether she ever was a Communist.

The announcement gave no specific reason for the university's action.

It said without elaboration she "is ineligible for reappointment for the next academic year" and that Weltfish, anthropology lecturer, Dr. Grayson Kirk, Columbia president, decided "no exceptions could be made."

The announcement said Kirk reached this decision last December. President Eisenhower then was president of Columbia, but on leave of absence, and Kirk was acting head of the university at the time.

Spanish Newspaper Reporter Writes Meaty Interview But His Art Work Not So Clever

(Following is the twenty-seventh of a series of travel articles written by Ruth Haller Ottaway, mother of James H. Ottaway, publisher of The Daily Record.)

By Ruth Haller Ottaway

Barcelona—I belong to newspaper family. We have learned that news is news, good or bad, even if it concerns ourselves. I have sympathy for a reporter who is looking for a story. At least I did have before being interviewed in Spain.

The major paper in Barcelona, La Vanguardia, sent its best (?) reporter to get a story from me for their 32-page Sunday paper. Today is Sunday. I wakened to open this Sunday journal to a caricature of me sketched by the "so clever" reporter which makes me want to jump off the 100-foot Columbus statue in the harbor.

He talked only Spanish. No French, no German, no English, and I could not trust one year of college Spanish. So the pretty, red-haired travel agent in the hotel lobby acted as interpreter.

"Is your husband more important than you?"

"I am not important."

"How is that with all husband and wives in your country?"

"Fifty-fifty." He rolled his eyes in disbelief.

"What do you think of divorce?"

"It is unfortunate, but we do not stand any nonsense from our men."

"Who lies more, men or women?"

"Fifty-fifty."

"How many times has your husband made you cry?"

"He doesn't make me cry. First, he doesn't want to. Second, if he did, we would not be together."

He did not believe that there are 500 music choruses, orchestras and clubs in the National Federation of Music Clubs, and that mere woman could be the president. Nor did he credit it that more than three million women are represented in our National Council of Women which is a clearing-house for women's national organizations in our country.

I said, "You know about the United Nations buildings in New York?" "Si, Signora." "The National Council of Women is moving to one of the new United Nations buildings to establish a World Center for Women."

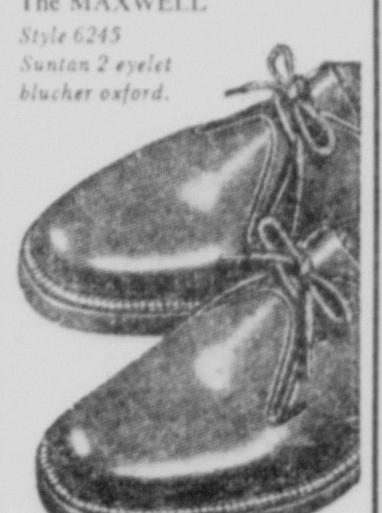

He was stolid about this, but the red-haired interpreter said excitedly, "Ah, all the women in the

Dozens Of Cripples Rehabilitated Yearly Through Physical Therapy

By Leonard Randolph
Learning to walk for the second time is no easy process.

It takes time. For most persons it requires also the steady, trained hand of a technician who will guide their bodies through the first few stumbling steps.

Yet, each year, dozens of Monroe County residents "learn to walk" all over again. They learn to use their hands again—following steps through which they have gone before.

Most county persons who are suffering from a disease or have been crippled by accident now have the benefit of one of the most thoroughly equipped physiotherapy departments to be found in a small hospital.

Located in the "old section" of General Hospital, spreading through continuous series of small rooms is the "physiotherapy department."

This department—devoted solely to rehabilitation of men, women and children who are crippled in some way—was made possible through a grant from Monroe County Association of Crippled Children and Adults.

It was opened June 1, 1952 "in memory of Nan Boushell" who had set aside a $4,000 bequest in her will to be paid to the county group for use in its work.

From the beginning, hospital and ACCA have worked in close cooperation to equip the department.

As it is now set up, department rooms contain an infra-red lamp, an electrical "muscle stimulator", diathermy machine, ultra-violet machine and a "whirlpool" tank along with exercise-equipment of various kinds.

Since its inception, the physical therapy branch of General Hospital has been under the supervision of Dr. Theodore Hsu and therapist Robert Ludgate.

Nearly all patients who come to the hospital ward for therapy are referred to Dr. Hsu and Ludgate by other doctors. Many are surgical cases.

Therapy, as it is carried out in the department, consists of many things.

It may, for example, be concentrated almost entirely on exercise. In this form of therapy, the patient is required mainly to flex the afflicted muscles through supervised motions until he is able to coordinate his own activity again.

It may, on the other hand, require massage, heat treatments or the use of the "whirlpool" machine. In extreme cases all forms of treatment may be used in succession.

In terms of equipment, the "whirlpool" is probably the most unusual and fascinating used at the hospital.

It consists of a medium-sized tank containing water heated to about 105 degrees. Into the tank a pipe pumps air, causing water to "whirl" in a pulling, circular motion.

A patient whose forearm muscles have been partially paralyzed or grown weak through lack of use, is seated alongside the machine.

His forearm is placed in an armrest underwater in the tank. The motion of constantly flowing water causes the patient's muscles to "exercise" almost without conscious effort on his own part.

Each piece of equipment contained in the department proves of great value in one or more phases of treatment.

Each, in its own way, functions to make some patient walk or use his hands again without a cane, a crutch or braces.

One of the first patients to come to the physiotherapy rooms after they opened last year was an adult.

He had been injured in a serious auto wreck. Doctors feared he might never be able to walk again.

With characteristic optimism, Dr. Hsu and physiotherapist Ludgate began working with the man.

He was in his mid-fifties and chances were heavy against him.

As weeks went by, the man became able to move about with the aid of crutches. Then a cane replaced the cumbersome wooden crutch.

Through constant treatment, the patient had been "rehabilitated".

All those who work with the department have total rehabilitation as their goal. They cannot succeed in all cases.

Some patients are suffering from acute after-effects of cerebral palsy. Others have been hit by a "stroke" and are partially paralyzed.

These must be handled delicately and with a consuming patience.

The department takes patients from all age-groups, suffering from a wide variety of sickness or accident.

During a "typical day", the therapy rooms may treat a case sent to them by Veterans Administration, two or three post-fracture cases, a "stroke" case and accident sprains of every imaginable type.

Since Monroe's population goes up in summer the work done by therapy also rises.

One of the patients receiving treatment now is a polio victim referred to the local therapist by St. Luke's Hospital in Bethlehem.

So important is the work done by therapy for both adult and young crippled persons, that the Monroe

County Association for Crippled Children and Adults has made it association works closely with the "crippled children's clinic" the hospital. Through its bi-annual (Continued on page nine)

Lions Club Lays Plans For Banquet

Stroudsburg Lions at their regular dinner meeting in the Penn-Stroud ballroom last night witnessed two aviation sound films, one dealing with jet aircraft and the second entitled "New Wings for Peace". They were shown through the courtesy of the Wilkes-Barre Air Force station. Benjamin F. Coolbaugh of Stroudsburg operated the projection machine.

In the business session William Rogalinsky called attention to the cancelling of the April 7 meeting and to the fact that the annual charter night banquet and ball will be featured on Saturday night, April 11. He said tickets are now on sale.

On Tuesday, April 14 the local Lions will star at the bowling banquet to be held at the Elks Club, East Stroudsburg. The Lions are champions this year. A steak dinner will be served and there will be announcements of awards for all records set during the year.

On Tuesday, April 21 "State of the Union" will be the theme of the meeting and all problems of the club management, especially the worry of attendance, will be discussed. All members are urged to attend and express ideas on club policy.

April 28 will be marked by the regional meeting when representatives of 28 clubs are expected to be present. It will be held at the Penn-Stroud.

Floyd Butz, who is in charge of the program for Tuesday, May 5, announced that it will feature a Ladies Night and the entertainment will be by the East Stroudsburg school singers known as "Belles and Beaux".

The Blue Cross Plan serving northeastern Pennsylvania for the 14th consecutive year has been awarded the official approval of the American Hospital Association. The AHA annually reviews all procedures of the non-profit plans.

Continued use of the famous "Blue Cross" insignia depends on adhering to rigid requirements. A few are: non-profit operation, reasonable record of growth, and backing by hospitals and doctors.

The award Hospital Service Association of Northeastern Pennsylvania (N.E. Pa. Blue Cross) received specifically stated:

"That your plan has been able to adhere firmly to the Standards which distinguish Blue Cross as a community service program, which set it apart from all other forms of health protection, is a tribute to the wisdom and forethought of plan management, contracting hospitals, and the other elements in the public which support, guide, and give substance to your operation."

Approval was reported to board of directors meeting recently in Wilkes-Barre general offices. Other matters the board considered included recent unprecedented amounts of hospital bills paid for members.

In February, as an example, payments for members' services amounted to 95½ per cent of all earned income for that month. Higher hospital charges were reflected in an average higher cost per case of $7. Utilization of the "over age 65" group, in itself, was 181 percent of income from that one membership category. Hospital admissions totaled 4,791.

Many Cripples Helped Yearly

These children are referred to the department for treatment.

Dr. Clement Hanlon, Bethlehem, is director of the clinic. Dr. Hanlon is slated to address medical and surgical staff members at the hospital on Monday, April 20 in monthly meeting.

At that meeting he will discuss the benefits of a physiotherapy department to the hospital and to the public it serves.

The ACCA is a "Red Feather" agency of the Community Chest from which it received $500 this year.

To collect sufficient funds for maintenance of the therapy department, the ACCA depends almost entirely upon its annual sale of "Easter seals".

This sale is carried on each year at this time.

Under direction of Alex Bensinger, local attorney, the present Easter seal drive is now nearing its end.

Sale of the seals is carried out entirely through a mail-contact system. Response in past years has been "very gratifying" according to ACCA workers.

At present, too few Monroe county doctors are taking advantage of the physiotherapy department as a means of helping their patients back on the road to normalcy.

Boasting the fine equipment it now has, General Hospital's therapy rooms can and will work with more and more crippled persons.

None of the workers—whether from ACCA or the hospital staff—can promise a "miraculous recovery."

No one can say "how much time it will take". They can promise only one thing.

That is "to help the crippled patient learn to help himself".

It's a big order and it can't be filled overnight.

Garden Club Urging Bills On Roadsides

The executive board of the Monroe County Garden Club will meet Thursday, April 2, at 2:15 p.m. at the YMCA.

The Garden Club is currently in the midst of a campaign to further the progress of three bills through the state House of Representatives. The bills which were endorsed at the last meeting of the club all deal with roadside land.

Mrs. Elmer J. Kiefer Jr., chairman of legislative chairman, has asked members to write to Representative John Shotwell in Harrisburg asking him to acquaint the Hon. Rayburn Hall of the state Senate, chairman of the Senate Committee on Highways with local sentiment.

The bills include House Bill 114 which would regulate land use adjacent to roadside rests and State parks, protecting them for half a mile along the highway in each direction to a depth of 500 feet.

House Bill No. 121 would impose restrictions on certain areas adjacent to the Blue Star Drive; while House Bill No. 122, would impose regulations and restrictions along roads and highways defined as Limited Access Highways.

Members of the club are also conducting a silver project and have been asked to send their coupons to Mrs. Edward Sullivan, of 206 Wallace St., Stroudsburg.

Marine Corps Aux. Sponsors Bake Sale

The Monroe County Marine Corps Auxiliary will hold a bake sale on Saturday, April 4 at H. L. Cleveland's store beginning at 9 a.m.

Everything will be home made, including pickles, relishes, cakes, cupcakes, baked beans, cookies, pies, candy, jelly and bread. Proceeds will go toward defraying the cost of sending boxes to Marines in active service from Monroe County.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

It all started when a covey of over-worked husbands having their second breakfast at the lunch counter grumbled about "too many women's organizations."

"Wives are never home," they agreed. "If it isn't a woman's club meeting, it's a bridge club or bowling or a board meeting of some kind."

"Husbands suffer. Stale sandwiches left over from bridge club. Cakes so little you can't taste 'em."

"Tough, all right," grunted the third, "but no so tough as we're drive. They see things in other people's houses. They come home with their feet hurting. Cranky, too."

"Bake sales — spend all that time baking a cake, and then good money buying it back again. We oughta rebel!"

So they did. And all the wives said, "Hurrah." And wore their housecoats all day long and never had to put their hair up or do their fingernails.

Never had to clean house, either, because it wasn't worth it with just an untidy family to appreciate it.

And the welfare drives fizzled, but it didn't matter because the agencies had to close too with no women willing to be directors. With the collapse of the PTA's, so did the hot lunch program, the band uniforms, and the plans for the playground.

The men's club dwindled to nothing but bachelors because the wives insisted that their husbands stay home to keep them company.

Of course, it's only April Fool. Or is it? Or are we?

Pocono Gr. To Be Hosts To Pomona

Tannersville — The card party held at the Pocono Grange on Thursday night was a very successful one. Mrs. Francis Mooney won the attendance prize and there were prizes for the high scorers. Refreshments were served by the women of the Grange.

An attempt will be made to have the project completed in time for the Little League to hold their games on this playground this season. To do their part in raising funds for the playground the PTA will hold a square dance this Saturday evening, April 4 at 9 p.m. in the fire hall. Norman May and his Highlanders will provide the music and the public is invited.

A social followed the business meeting. Films from the Cancer Society were shown with Mrs. Muddell as speaker. Films of Yellowstone Park, a crocodile hunt and comedy reels were also shown with John Montgomery at the projector.

Choral Group In Benefit Here April 9

One of Northeastern Pennsylvania's most popular choral groups will appear in concert Thursday, April 9 at State Teachers College auditorium.

Proceeds from concert will go to Kiwanis Club's charitable and educational fund. Kiwanis is sponsoring the appearance of "The Schuberts," a Scranton musical group under direction of Gounod Evans.

During recent months "The Schuberts" have appeared at Cornings Glass Works in a concert for workers there and at Williamsport for benefit of the local Kiwanis group.

Both are accomplished pianists. Mrs. Davis has been accompanist for the chorus for the past six years. Mrs. Butler recently joined the organization.

Members of the group are women between the ages of 16 and 35. "The Schuberts" is not backed by any civic group. Since its inception the chorus has devoted much of its time to concert appearances on behalf of Scranton charitable functions and public service clubs.

Tickets for the State Teachers College concert are now on sale from all members of the Kiwanis club.

Shawnee Inn Opens Season First Of May

Shawnee-on-Delaware — Shawnee Inn will open for the season with a weekend program May 1, 2 and 3, it was announced by Richard E. Quillen, manager.

This will be the start of Shawnee's ninth season under the ownership of Fred Waring, director of the famed "Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians" orchestra and choral group.

A "dogwood" golf tournament will be one of the featured events. This white and pink blossom which is found in abundance in this area will be in full bloom.

Informal golf and a buffet luncheon on Shawnee's Green Terrace, Friday, May 1 will open the weekend program. It will be followed by a cocktail reception and dinner dance Friday night.

The "dogwood" golf tournament will be played Saturday with putting contests, tennis, badminton, shuffleboard, and other activities scheduled for the nongolfers. There will be dancing and entertainment at night.

A mixed two-ball foursomes tournament will be played Sunday. Harry Obitz, head professional and his Shawnee golf staff will present their famous "swing's the thing" golf clinic and exhibition Sunday afternoon.

Biggs' Restaurant, Pocono Manor Reach Tournament Finals

Two Court Title Battles At YMCA

Pocono Manor Service Station and Biggs' Restaurant advanced to the final round of the junior and senior divisions respectively of the Monroe County YMCA Invitation Basketball Tournament last night, but the latter had a very close call.

The Pocono Manor contingent relied over Cyphers Service Station in the junior contest, 65-46, but Biggs' Restaurant, one of two seeded teams in the senior division, had to fight off a determined Frank's Barbers club to win, 71-70.

All the tension and action in last night's YMCA doubleheader was crammed into the nightcap. Frank's Barbers held an 18-16 edge during the last minute of play, despite the fact the Barbers played the entire period with only four players.

Don France was forced from the contest with an ankle injury in the second round, while Dick Pennington was excused early because of five personal fouls. The two loses cut the six-man Barber squad down to four stalwarts.

Scoring

Biggs' club led 26-16 at the end of the first period, but Frank's club began its uphill fight by holding a 19-15 scoring edge in the second round. Biggs' contingent led at halftime, 41-35.

The Barbers held a 17-14 bulge in the third round scoring and an 18-16 advantage during the final period, but the upward surge failed by one point of catching highly favored Biggs' Restaurant.

Biggs' five thus earned the right to meet DeVito's Shoemakers for the senior division championship today, at 8:30 p. m. Pocono Manor Service Station clashes with Newman's Dress Shop in the junior division title struggle, at 7:15 p. m.

Pirates Lose Shortstop
Havana (49) — Manager Fred Haney's choice to start at shortstop in the season's opener—Gail Allie—may be lost to the Pittsburgh Pirates the entire season. Allie fractured his right ankle and foot Monday sliding into home plate during an intrasquad game.

Roseto Announces Drill Date

Roseto—A total of 25 people attended last night's meeting of the Roseto A. A. baseball team here at the Marconi Club. Joseph Jocilla, president of the club, was in charge of the meeting.

It was decided to hold the initial practice session of the season at Roseto Park next Monday. The drill will probably begin some time around 6 p. m.

Discussion
Money raising ventures were also brought under discussion.

Team officials reported that local talent would be used as much as possible to make up the squad.

Thorpe To Be Buried Next Week

Los Angeles (49) — Funeral services for Jim Thorpe, great American athlete, probably will be held early next week.

In Service
The Red Cross is trying to get two sons, Philip, 24, and William, 23, home from their Army posts in Korea in time for the funeral. Another son, Richard, 18, in the Navy, is believed en route to the South Pacific. A fourth son, John, 15, is at Chemawa Indian School near Salem, Ore.

Pep Gains Nod Over Gambino

Tampa, Fla. (49) — Wiley Willie Pep, 131, Hartford, Conn., veteran, had too much boxing experience for young Joey Gambino, New York, 133, to make much of an impression on him here last night.

The former world featherweight champion won a unanimous decision in their 10-round main card, before a crowd estimated at 1,200.

Pep, the picture of condition, so confused his opponent with his bobbing tactics that he scored heavily in the middle rounds.

No Knockdowns
There were no knockdowns but Pep twice had Joey, who hails from Levittown, L.I., in slight trouble and didn't need a knockout punch to earn the favor of the judges.

Pep kept boring in and Joey kept backpedaling. Joey did close in at times but came out on the short end of these exchanges. Pep counterpunched effectively and whipped over several hard rights.

It was not until the final round that the fighters stood toe-to-toe and slugged it out. Mostly they was a boxing lesson with Wee Willie counterpunching and stalking his opponent.

Tigers Claw Athletics, 13-7

Lakeland, Fla. (49)—The Detroit Tigers closed their exhibition play in Florida against major league opposition with a 13-7 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday.

Kelly

Detroit put on a seven-run rally on the seventh inning to clinch the game and keep atop the Grapefruit circuit standings with a 13-5 record. The Bengals won only nine Florida games while losing 13 in training for the 1952 season that saw them end up in the American League cellar.

Opener On National Network

St. Louis (49) — Major league baseball's opening game April 13 will be carried on a nationwide television network for the first time in history, the Falstaff Brewing Corp. said yesterday.

The brewery, as sponsor, said the game between the Washington Senators and New York Yankees at Griffith Stadium in Washington would be telecast over a 15-station network in major cities of the nation. However, no eastern cities are listed.

Tradition

Tradition calls for President El-senhower to throw out the first ball.

A spokesman for the brewery said "Dizzy" Dean and "Bud" Blatner will be paired for the play-by-play telecast which will be carried by the American Broadcasting Co.

Purdue's Affirmative Vote Virtually Assures Continuance Of Big Ten-Pacific Coast Pact

By Charles Chamberlain
Chicago (AP) — Purdue climbed aboard the Rose Bowl bandwagon yesterday with a vote that virtually assured continuation of the Big Ten Pacific Coast Conference football series on New Year's Day for at least another three years.

The Boilermakers, who tied for the 1952 title but lost the Pasadena plum to co-champion Wisconsin, voted officially in favor of renewing the bowl games. The faculty vote was 185-70.

Purdue thus reversed its stand of three years ago when it opposed the current series which expires with the 1954 New Year's Day contest.

The Lafayette, Ind., school's affirmative vote apparently assured the required 6-4 majority needed in the Big Ten for conference approval.

Formal Answer

The conference, after each member school votes on whether to renew the bowl rivalry, will give its formal answer at the annual spring meeting in Champaign, Ill., May 28-30.

This now appears to be only a formality, with Purdue's "yes" a 6-4 margin in favor of renewing the pact seems certain.

Illinois and Ohio State were first to announce approval, the former conditionally on the basis that the same Big Ten team be eligible for the Rose Bowl only once in a three year span. Purdue made the same condition.

Iowa yesterday announced through Commissioner K. L. "Tug" Wilson that it had voted in the affirmative. Only Indiana and Michigan have not yet announced a vote, but both schools were supporters of the series when it was originated in 1946 under a five year contract and extended for another three years.

Voting against renewal are Wisconsin, the first Big Ten school to lose in the Rose Bowl last New Year's, Northwestern, Minnesota and Michigan State.

Group Requests Burial Of Thorpe At Carlisle

Harrisburg, Pa.—The widow of Jim Thorpe was asked yesterday to allow his body to be buried on the site of the old Carlisle Indian School where the famous athlete first gained national notice.

An informal group telegraphed Mrs. Thorpe suggesting the construction of a shrine to the Sac-Fox warrior at the nearby school. The site now serves as the Army War College.

Great

Thorpe died in California Saturday. Considered the greatest athlete of the 20th century, he began his athletic career as a football player at the Indian school.

Richard Redmond of Harrisburg, who initiated the plan to bring Thorpe's body back to Carlisle, said the move was supported by Pennsylvania's U. S. senators, James H. Duff and Edward Martin.

"We're not fooling ourselves," said Boudreau. "If we reach the first division, we'll be doing a great thing. It's going to take from two to three years for these kids to start."

Boudreau has no alternative but to continue with his youth program he started last year. With Ted Williams still in the Marines, and last year's outstanding rookies, Faye Throneberry and Dick Brodowski, in service, the Red Sox will do well to duplicate their sixth place finish of 1952.

"Our biggest problem is pitching," admitted Boudreau. "This may be the year for Maurice McDermott (10-9) and Willard Nixon (5-5) to finally arrive. If they don't, it will be just too bad."

"Our second biggest problem is the outfield. Piersall, completely recovered from his nervous breakdown, has looked great. I don't know whether DiMaggio will be ready opening day. If he is, Dom will be in center and Piersall in right. If not, Jimmy will be my my catcher," he said.

Governors

It was also decided to elect a board of governors at another club meeting.

Graydon Praetorius, president of the team, presided over the meeting attended by 18 people.

Hitters

The Red Sox should get some consistent hitting from Kell (311) and Goodman (306) but except for Dick Gernert, they don't have a long ball hitter in the regular lineup. Gernert, who slammed 19 homers on a .243 batting average, must overcome the fanned or real sophomore jinx. The same can be said of Sammy White, who had a brilliant freshman year behind the plate in 1952.

The infield presents the only bright picture for Boudreau. Gernert at first, Goodman at second and Kell at third, are set. Much depends upon how rookie Milt Bolling makes out at shortstop. The 22-year-old Birmingham graduate has shown great promise defensively, some power at the plate, but whether he will hit consistently is questionable.

The catching is fairly well set, too. White again will be the number one man. Veterans Del Wilbert and Gus Niarchos will supplement the 21-year-old "reciever" from Seattle, Wash.
